Jeremy Kelley dreamed of becoming a business owner.

In 2006, he and his wife, Tonya, took the opportunity to do just that.

"Once he did research and figured out what would be a fit for him from a business standpoint, and based on what he enjoyed, he ended up with a lawn maintenance business," said Tonya.

The couple purchased Between the Edges Lawn Care & Landscaping Inc. in 2006.

"It started out with one lawn maintenance truck, and now we have 10 vehicles," she said. "(Jeremy) completely built the landscaping side of the business from scratch.

"He learned everything and got certified in everything he needed to."

Between the Edges offers lawn care, landscape design services, landscape installation services and installs irrigation systems.

"We serve the entire CSRA," Tonya said. "We go everywhere from Thomson to Aiken down to Waynesboro and up to Washington. So, we serve a large area."

The couple relocated the business earlier this year from Augusta to Edgefield Road in North Augusta. With the new location, they plan to expand into retail in the future.

The company has seen growth, even during tough economic times, said Tonya, crediting her husband's work ethic as one of the major reasons the company has succeeded.

"Jeremy is very hands-on," she said. "He works from 7 o'clock in the morning until the job is done. He's not one of those that work 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. I think it takes someone very dedicated like that to grow like we did and to have a good name."
